105.2241-interviewfolder_1926.09.18_p1

JAMES CURRAN

New Brunswick Police Officer.

Met Officer Carrigan on Easton Avenue in Cathers car and Schneider in front of Stryker's house near De Russeys Lane and Easton Avenue. Went to the bodies, removed both hats and could not identify them. Clothing looked as if bodies had been laid out. Did not see any letters or cards or that the woman's throat was cut or the position of eyes. Went to Stryker's, telephonedPolice Headquarters and stayed at De Russeys Lane and Easton Avenue waiting for Somerset authorities whom he had missed because they came through De Russeys Lane from Hamilton Street.

105.2241-interviewfolder_1926.09.18_p1

JAMES CURRAN

New Brunswick Police Officer.

Met Officer Carrigan on Easton Avenue in Cathers car and Schneider in front of Stryker's house near De Russeys Lane and Easton Avenue. Went to the bodies, removed both hats and could not identify them. Clothing looked as if bodies had been laid out. Did not see any letters or cards or that the woman's throat was cut or the position of eyes. Went to Stryker's, telephonedPolice Headquarters and stayed at De Russeys Lane and Easton Avenue waiting for Somerset authorities whom he had missed because they came through De Russeys Lane from Hamilton Street.